Mr. Otto Folprecht reports

Vodis Production And Processing Facility Delivering High Quality Product To The Washington State Market. Repetitive Production Of Recreational Marijuana Is In Full Cycle.

APRIL 4, 2016- Vancouver, British Columbia – Vodis Pharmaceuticals Inc. (CSE: VP / FSE: 1JV / Q:VDQSF) (“Vodis Pharmaceuticals”) and its’ wholly-owned subsidiary, Vodis USA, Inc., a Washington corporation (“Vodis” or the “Company”) received notice from its tenant, a licensed Washington State company conducting a recreational marijuana production and processing business, that it has successfully completed, produced and processed several production cycles of multiple strains such as Chem Dawg, Crit Jack, Malawi[34.2% THC-A] with total cannabinoid counts above 30%. All of the tenants production lots were tested by a third party Washington State approved laboratory and has confirmed cannabinoid counts. The tenant, using the turn key indoor grow facility designed, engineered and built by Vodis, is now entering into a repetitive production mode and is looking to increase capacity in light of the successful production cycles.

Otto Folprecht, CEO and Director of Vodis Pharmaceuticals states, “This is another important milestone in the growth of our company as we have proven that our turn-key solution and the supporting business processes are capable of producing, on a large scale, high grade marijuana with exceptionally high cannabinoid counts above 30%.

Furthermore, the tenant has advised the Company that it has begun shipping replenishment orders to the Bellingham and Seattle market and that the tenants staff is working with the recreational stores to establish repetitive purchase orders to create a consistent supply chain for the tenants products.

Separately, the Company has granted stock options to purchase 3,210,000 shares, exercisable at a price of $0.10 per share for a period of five years to directors and consultants.
